

Thomas Jefferson thought that every state should have their say in how they run the state and that the Federal Government should not be overbearing in states rights.

Now an effective state law in NJ, "Do Not Call List", is being threatened because it differs from the federal government version. A state should have the ability to make laws that are "stronger" in rule if it's people desire it and it does not isolate the constitution. As a citizen of NJ I urge that NJ's law not be over turned to weaken it's effectiveness for it's citizens.
